

How you doing? Good. Great. I can hear that. Okay. I love you. your information. How is the school year starting so far? Hmm. My school years... Good. Here we go. Okay. So he used to meet with Xavier, right? How often did you meet with him? I'll do it. I'm sure you hear it. I do. Every Thursday. Every Thursday. Cool. All right, and do you want to continue with meeting weekly? Yeah, perfect. Okay. Is this a good time for you? Do you want to keep meeting weekly on Fridays at 11:00, or do you want to do different time? Wait. Me, me, me, too. Me, different. Me, me, me, different. I a different type of student. Okay. Maybe the disorder could get weak by week then? Okay, perfect. Okay. So tell me, um, how are you feeling about your accommodations for this school year? Do you feel like they're good? They've been helpful. Yeah, okay. Mm. Okay, and so, are you gonna so you do the academic success coaching, that's with me? And then you have the early access to assignments. You have access to your instructor's slides, keyboard access for testing, and extended testing time. How's the note taking going? Are you having any issues with Messenger Pigeon? There are no issues with this... Permit. Okay. Good. The testing center. Um, and then you get alternate format text. You get the audiobooks? Have you met with the seat lab already this year? To get, um, your textbooks and everything, um, and audio versions. Well, not quite, because they're, because they're, because they're in backward. Okay, did you schedule an appointment yet with them or not yet? Alright, not yet. Okay. I can help you do that, too. And then you have your laptop and your short breaks. Perfect, okay. Good, so tell me, are you, how are you feeling for this semester? I want to make sure that I can help you the best way that I can. So tell me how you're feeling and what you need from me. And, oh, I have this kitchen here, so if you want to grab pictures, go for it. I would... Feel free. That one in the marble fell out yesterday. you. I guess we can talk about, like, how your sessions were with the same year. and, like, what you found helpful with Xavier and, you know, what I can do to support you similarly. Oh, the... What? Well, I think... useful. I guess that... that... I think anything I've, in, in, in the things that I want, into, I want, continue to semester art, articles, are going to, are going to, are going to... Prioritize them in my class, prioritizing my assignments, is... The schedule, my timing, work assignment, working assignments, and... Angle, angle, and kill, antiquin, antiquin, and... and my what? And I would, like, take, take the quizzes that cast this before, before class time, before did you take them? Yeah, so... Is that what you mentioned? Okay. So you want help, like, scheduling your exams and quizzes and things for the testing center, too? Perfect. Sounds good.. See, did you get a chance to go to all your classes, or you still have, um, some more on Monday? Oh, my God. I like it. Blood. I like Thursday, Wednesday, and yesterday. I got, I went home. I went to all my new my classes. Okay, perfect. So you brought all your syllabi, you have everything ready to go, then, and you have all the textbooks you need. You ready? Perfect. Okay. So to start out for our 1st session, what do you think? Do you want to talk about a game plan for your upcoming assignments? Do you want to look at your schedule for the next week together and make a plan? What would you like to do? I want a person, make a plan, and schedule. Okay. Perfect. Okay. Did you do you have a laptop with you? that out and then. Do you have a separate banner or, like, a calendar app that you use for yourself? What, useful bikes, bikes, and I used to have, and I used to out the counter. Perfect. Okay. And then how do you keep track of, like, your assignment deadlines? Do you plug that into your Excel spreadsheet? Awesome. Have you already started doing that for this semester? Ooh, I see. Perfect. Okay, awesome. And so this is how you like to keep track of your assignments for a week? Look over the syllabus, mechanic book. That's great. When you write the date here, do you write the date that it's due, or do you write the date that you completed it? There. I write the date. I write the date, that's due. Okay, perfect. Okay. So do you want to take a look at all your assignments for next week, and sort of go over that together? Cool. Okay. Why don't you go ahead and put up your, um... You're so inviting. You're taking six courses this semester? How do you feel about that? Do you normally take six? I usually take five questions. I'm just gonna take five. Okay. How are you feeling with the extra class this semester? Okay? Okay. If we finding that, you know, it's a little overwhelming, we can figure out a plan, though, okay? Cool. All right, so you have work, okay? So, I haven't seen blackboard in a very long time. So I'm sort of new still. And I haven't been with others since I came here for my undergrad 12 years ago. I graduated from 2014. So it's been a while for me. So bear with me, because I'm still learning stuff too. Okay? So you might teach me some things in the process. All right? Okay. So, can you show me how, like, you access your syllabus for each class? Perfect. Okay. Okay, so then why don't we go ahead and look at each class schedule, and we can plug that in, so it looks like you have the, the, um, chapter 2 reading schedule. And you're prepping for those questions due on the 31st. Right. Okay. Is this how you would like to spend the time today? If it's not, that's totally fine too. But if you want to, we can go through this together. Yeah. Okay. All right, so why don't you go ahead and put it into your excel sheet? How's it going? Where do you think? Sit by. Okay, perfect. So, it seems like you got the hang of that, right? Like, we're already doing it for your other sheet. Do you do you do it for each week or do you erase everything and then put it up again? Well, you should mix everything and play it again. Okay, all right, cool. And do you think that's been helpful for you? Like, going through that? Was that good for last semester, as far as time management and staying on track of everything? Okay. Are you interested in exploring other ways of time management, or do you think you want to stick with this method for now? These face were different ways. Okay. Okay. Um, so do you prefer to use a laptop over like a physical planner then? Oh, my flesh. Well, actually, my mom... My mom... I actually... Oh cool, awesome. So do you want to try to use that instead? Or try to play around with that? Sure. Okay. Maybe. I try this. Yeah, let's try... I think it's... It's nice. It's when you're writing stuff down, and it's... It's good because you can look back at all the old, you know, the old due dates. You could sort of cross off, which is really satisfying, like, when you're done with something, to cross... feel good. Um, and, and think that, you can definitely do that. All right? Is this for, hey, do you mind if I... brown soup? it off nice. Perfect. So, what I think might be a good idea is to sort of, like, plan a day each week to go through and look over your next few dates and take the time to write in. And that can be when we meet together, we could do it together, or you could schedule it on your own. Some students like to do it. this Sunday night before a brand new week. They go through their planner, they look at all their assignments and due dates. Cross off what's already been done, and then right for the week ahead. It really just depends on how you're feeling and what you think would work best for you. Um, do you want to try to do, you know, all of next week, now that we're here together and write it in this way? Or we're, yeah. Okay, so why don't you go ahead and do that? And you can. Just like you did with these, we can we can write the weeks ahead assignments in here. Do you wanna do that? Okay, sounds good. Also, if you want to buy your clip, I like to use physical planners too, but sometimes, like... It's kind of nice to, like, clip off what you've already done, so you don't have to worry about, like, going back to it. And so that way you just look at what's ahead. So people are gonna show this too. So I find it super helpful. All right. Um. Okay, how are you feeling? Oh, she's laughing. Look, look, say, in, in a nervous respect. I'd skip for this schedule. Yeah, about the schedule and just classes in general. Keeping up with the assignments. Yeah. It's understandable. I mean, you got six classes this semester, so that's a little bit more right than what you previously had. You've been to all your classes at least once. If you find that one of the classes is, you think, might be a little too much, that's okay too. We can always look at, you know, withdrawn from a class if it's too much, okay? Now is the time to really think about that too, because if you have to drop a class, You have that time over the next, like, week or 2 to drop it and it's not counted as like a withdrawal or anything. Okay? So you have, let me see the classes. You have intro to literature, decision making with Excel, world of communication. Uh, reading film, in a personal communication, in life through time. All right, so you feel good about all this so far? All right. Well, over the next 2 weeks, really think about each class and look at the syllaby and sort of see all of the assignments that are due. If you find that one of the courses might be a little too much and you think it makes sense to drop one for now, just to focus on five, we can talk about that, okay? Maybe when we, when we meet next week, we could sort of see how you're feeling about that after going to another, the 2nd class. Okay? Sound good? Okay. Cool. And then, and then, yeah, so, I mean, we don't have to do this together, like, during our meeting. Do you want to do it during our meeting, or do you want to, like, do it before we meet, and then we look at it together? Do you want me to just check to see if you've done it? What do you think? I don't want you to feel pressured to do something that you're like uncomfortable doing during the meeting or that you would prefer to do some other time. Hmm... Me, me, me, me, me, I'll try doing, doing this before, before me. Yeah, perfect. I think that's good. Try to do it before, and then we can meet, look at it together, go over everything, and then, you know, if we have to schedule out specific time for you to go to the library or do some studying, we can look at that together too. Okay? Do you do anything outside of school? Do you have like other things on your schedule? Any other activities? Yeah. Mm hmm. You do? I do. I do. After I do, after I do, after I do, I do, they have studying and doing a lot of my classwork. Asia. I usually go, I usually go to sleep. I go to a swimsuit, which would be, go to the events, that's Southern posts. Sorry. Good. That's great. Awesome. I love to hear that. It's good to stay involved. meet people. Are you gonna, um, do, uh, are you in the neurodiversity club with Becca and Ashley? No? Okay. I can do you want more information about that? I can get you more info if you'd like. Okay. I'll get more information about that because I think they're starting that up. Um, pretty soon. So I'll get more information and we can talk about it our next meeting as well. Um, What else? Who else can I help you with? I mean, I mean, it helps get scheduling, scheduling, my appointments for quick, for quizzes, for quizzes, and for quizzes, and exams, if I were to take an exam and quiz. Okay Do you have anything coming up in the next week? Why don't you check? Probably not, because it's just the 2nd week, but... is. Okay, so you have your exam... or discourse, your first exam, it's during week five. So September 25th. Okay? Do you want to go ahead and put that scheduled that exam right now? Okay. Do you know how to go onto the testing center website? Okay. Perfect. Okay, so let's do your booking request. It's a filter, so you can select the course. Perfect. September 25th. You can do that, and then go down to, like, the space. And these would be the different types. Okay, so where should I be in the late of that class? So, around until 12 p.m. and 20 p.m. Okay. So then go ahead and book it for that time. All right, so good. Perfect, perfect, perfect. Awesome. Sweet. I got it. All right, so we did that, right? Do you want to write? Like, as soon as, you know, you know that you booked it, we can write booked here in that way. You know, that's done. Right? And then you have your feathers, could you do the best before? That cool. Is this course all about, like, horror? Ooh, that's awesome. Do you like horror movies? Yeah, what's your favorite? Never, the Halloween franchise of Michael Myers. Really? I'm not a huge horror fan, but my best friend is. She loves horror movies and she goes to, um, there's a movie theater, like a local movie theater in Connecticut. I plays a lot of, um, I don't know how, vintage horror movies. So I bet she didn't know all these. Okay All right, and then for the quizzes, like, for this, are we scheduling this in the testing center as well? Okay. Okay, so why don't you go ahead? What are you thinking? So this would be based on this, but then in class, we're discussing this. So, are you wondering if, like, do you have a question about that or what are you thinking? Would be... So this is due... Tuesday, September, 8th. They just squeeze. On Friday, on September 14th. And then up. Friday, September 4th. Yep. Okay. And that's how you normally do your quizzes earlier like that? When we... Let me ask... only else... Let me open, put this thing on in September, September 3rd. Sorry, I'm a little confused on 2 dates. Okay, no worries. I'm gonna, yeah. Let me ask, Ted's not here today, but I'm gonna ask Ted, because I just want to make sure that I'm telling you to do the right thing. And like I said, I'm still new, and I don't want to tell you to do something. that's wrong. Okay? I'm still learning too. So bear with me. Let me just take a picture of this. That way I know, like, what I'm looking at. And then I'm gonna chat with Ted and just ask him because... yeah Sound good? Yeah. Okay. And then when we meet next week, we can go over everything. But in the meantime... I'll try to figure out the answer today. That way you can get this scheduled a week in advance, okay? Sound good? I'll email you, and I'll let you. Thank you. I'm sorry. I'm still learning too. I don't really want to do this yet. Okay? But do you feel good about, you know, your other, um, scheduling your other quizzes and exams? Okay. Do you want to set up a meeting for next week now? Okay. And you think in the same time, on Friday next week, or do you want to do a different day? I don't have not available on Monday or Tuesday or Wednesday. So it'd really be Thursday or Friday of next week. weeks. Oh, let me see, during last schedule. Okay, so Thursday, I have a class, you know, um... Wow I can do 1130 on Thursday. Do you want to do that, or we could do 11 o'clock on Friday? 11,30, yeah, Thursday. Okay, perfect. Okay. 30, 30. Sure, pops up. Perfect. All right, we're confirmed. Okay? Thursday, September 3rd, 11:30. Sound good? All right. And let me try to figure out, you know, get you a better answer as far as, like, scheduling something like that. Okay All right, cool. Sound good? All right, awesome. Um, and I'll also look at, um, scheduling you for the seat lab. We could do that together as well next week. Okay? All right. Sounds good. Do you have any other questions for me today or any concerns? If I were... From prioritizing, right, in the rain, years, rain, schedule, schedule cleanings, for a second. Scheduled plans for, for, for, for things that are due, help, help, help, help me, help me with my semester. Yeah, yeah. What I'll do is send you an email after this too, and I can put, like, what we talked about and the priorities. I'll put it like in a little list. That way you can have it to look back on. Okay? Alright. Yeah, so definitely go through, look at your due dates, prioritize writing in your planner for the week ahead. Um, And then figuring out and scheduling your exams. Okay? Perfect. Sounds good. All right. Well, thank you, Madison. It was really nice meeting you. Um, if while we're meeting, something comes up or you want to do something differently in a meeting or something isn't working, I want you to feel comfortable telling me. So, you know, I'm here to help you in whichever way you think is best. So if I'm doing something that's not working, just tell me. It's all right. I'm still learning the whole process too, okay? So I appreciate your patience with me as well. Great. Cool. All right, that's amazing. Mm hmm. Cool. Thank you. You're welcome. Have any plans today after this? So Friday. Look, at 2:00 p.m. I have, yeah, L. Yeah, like, excellence with Mr. Mecklin. Oh, cool. Nice. Awesome. All right. Are you all set? We're good. You did good. Thank you, good meeting you. I'll see you next week. Che. Okay. too.
